HEAD BRISBANE FIRE DISTRICT RESIGNS POST

Gives Ruling Of District Attorney Regarding Procedure As Reason For Action

Norman R. Brown, chairman of the Brisbane Fire District board, Tuesday of this week, resigned his post in a row with the district attorney and the grand jury over purchase of fire equipment without sanction of the district voters.

"As chairman of the board of fire commissioners of the Brisbane Fire District," Brown advised the Board of Supervisors, by letter, "I hereby tender my resignation, due to the ruling laid down by the district attorney that this district hold an election to determine whether the district keep the truck already purchased by the district commissioners.

"This ruling is contrary to the advice given this commission by its legal counsel. Be it further known that I as a member of this commission am not going against the statutes laid down by the state legislature.

"Be it further known that I as a citizen and taxpayer protest the cost of an election to which this district is being unnecessarily taxed."

The board took no action on the letter, instructing the county clerk to place it on the agenda for the August 16 meeting.

According to Assistant District Attorney Daniel E. Sullivan, the law is specific in requiring the commissioners to secure authorization of a majority of the voters of the district to levy a special tax.

Sullivan, who has aided the grand jury's probe of the Brisbane fire tax, said that Brown's position "is wrong, because the present controversy does not involve the fire truck purchased some time ago."

"What it involves," declared Sullivan, "is the district's contemplated purchase of a new fire truck, to be paid for over the next four years. The law governing fire districts says the commissioners must first obtain the approval of the voters.

"The law was not followed when the first truck was purchased, and it apparently was not going to be followed in buying the new apparatus."

The commissioners had already made an agreement with P. E. Van

LABOR WILL BE AIDED BY LOW RENT PROGRAM

United States Housing Authority Activities Will Provide Work For Skilled And Unskilled

The $800,000,000 slum clearance and low rent rehousing program of the United States Housing Authority will provide nearly 700,000,000 "man hours" of labor in addition to constructing decent homes for approximately 160,000 low income families, according to a report submitted to Nathan Strauss, USHA Administrator, and made public this week.

A total of nearly $700,000,000 or more than three fourths of all the money to be invested in local low rent housing projects, for which the USHA lends 90 per cent while the local community puts up the remaining 10 per cent of the development cost, will be spent on building materials, contractors' fees and construction labor.

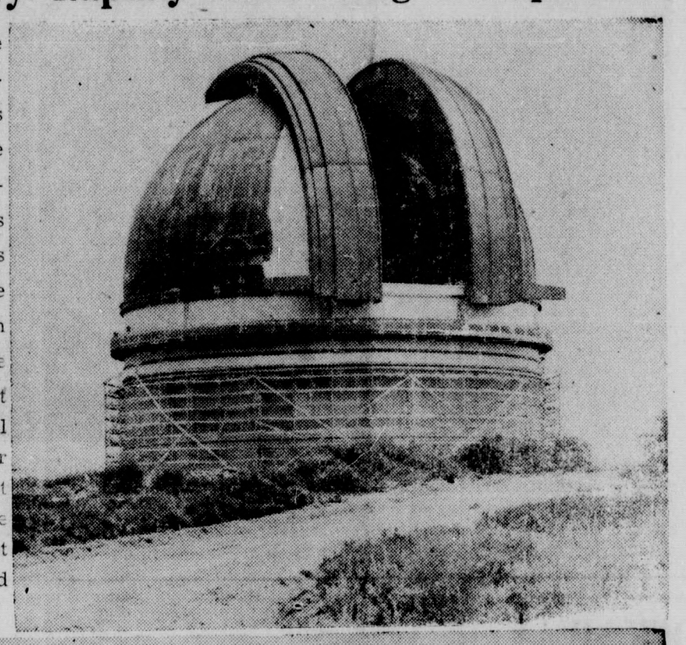
Of this amount $250,000,000 will be consigned as wages to building trades workers and will provide approximately 270,000,000 "man hours" of direct labor on the project sites.

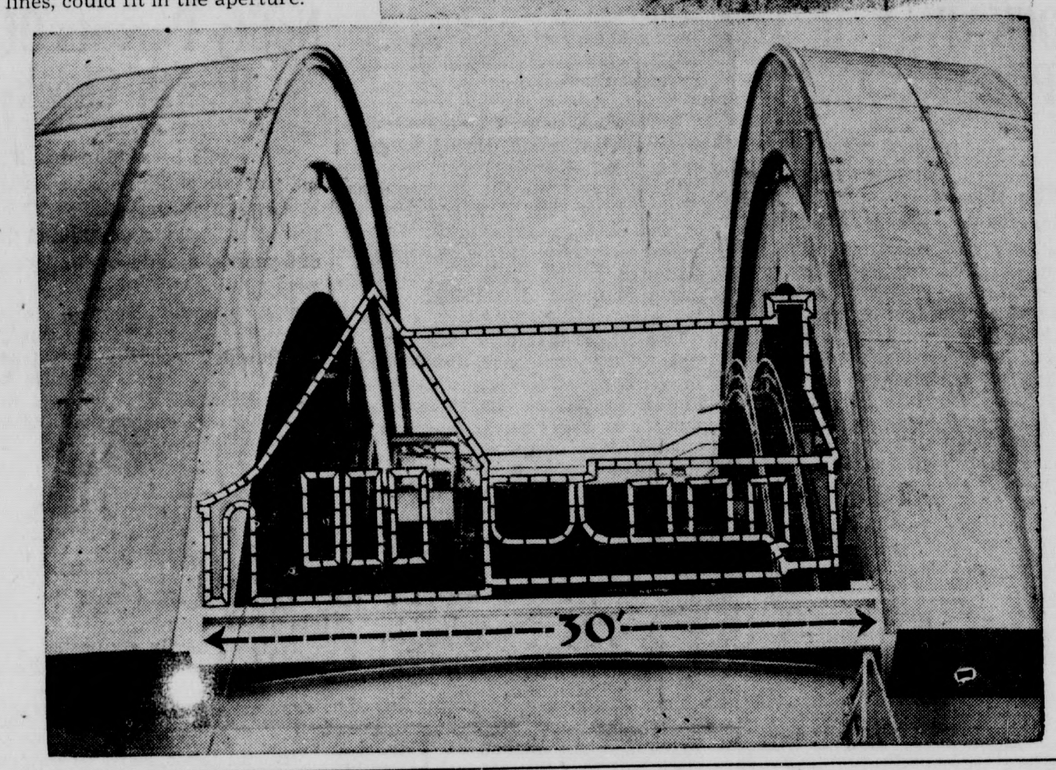
For every ten men who hammer nails and lay brick and install bathtubs, at least fifteen additional men will be put to work in the mills that produce nails, the kilns where bricks are baked, and the factories where bathtubs are made. This "behind the scene" or indirect labor will approximate 430,000,000 "man hours."

The total of 700,000,000 "man hours" of labor, both direct and indirect, which the program thus will provide is the equivalent of nearly 300,000 men working one year apiece in the construction of all the 160,000 low rent dwellings to be built under the long range USHA program.

Palomar Observatory Rapidly Nearing Completion

Rapidly nearing completion, the telescope building atop Mount Palomar, Cal., soon will house the world's largest astronomers reflector — the 200 inch "sky-eye." Dr. John A. Anderson, in charge of the work, says that in a few weeks the huge glass will be put on the grinding machine to receive the final polishing with jewelers' rouge. Top photo shows the building photographed from 1000 feet away. The dome of welded steel weighs 2,000,000 pounds. Lower photo shows the thirty foot slit through which the 200 inch telescope will peer into the skies. An eight room house, as indicated by dotted lines, could fit in the aperture.





SUSPENSION OF COUNTY PATROL HEAD ANNOUNCED

Charges Filed After Many Months Of Investigation Of Conduct In Office

Captain Paul Perussina was relieved from command of the San Mateo County unit of the state highway patrol by his superior officer, Wednesday morning of this week.

Captain E. F. Cassell, commanding officer of the Golden Gate bridge patrol force, was placed in temporary charge of the San Mateo County patrol.

Notice of the charges preferred against him and of his suspension from active duty, were served on Captain Perussina at the traffic bureau here by Supervising Inspector William R. Sharkey of Sacramento, acting on instructions of Patrol Chief E. Raymond Cato.

Sharkey was accompanied to Redwood City by District Inspector Andrew Ford, whose investigation of Perussina's conduct led to the latter's suspension.

Perussina surrendered his captain's star, service revolver and other equipment to Supervising Inspector Sharkey.

District Inspector Ford said the charges against Perussina listed in the notice served by Sharkey, were as follows:

1. Incompentency.
2. Inefficiency.
3. Disrespectful treatment of the motoring public.
4. Wilful disobedience of the orders of his superiors.
5. Physical disability.

"All of the charges are based on an official investigation of Captain Perussina's activities over some period of time," District Inspector Ford declared. "The general charges are based on specific instances contained in the report submitted to Chief Cato. I regret that it was necessary to take

FIESTA WANTS MORE PEOPLE FOR PAGEANTS

Fencers And Singers Are To Be Specially Trained For Their Parts

While the San Mateo County Floral Fiesta today sought more men and boys to take part in the annual Fiesta pageants, scheduled nightly during the event, September 21-26, the officials took time out to find a part for an eight year old boy who wrote his wishes to participate.

The boy, little Dick Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler, 112 Costa Rica avenue, Burlingame, was a flower boy at a wedding scene last year. Anxious to get a part in the 1938 show, he wrote the Fiesta Commission:

"Dear Mr. Lippman: Are there going to be any little boys in the Fiesta this year? Could I be one? I had so much fun last year. I have had more experience this year. I am sending you a picture of me in my costume, so that you will remember what I look like. If you have any little boys in pictures could I help in those, too?

(Signed)
DICK THOMAS FOWLER,
112 Costa Rica Avenue,
Burlingame, Calif."

Young Dick will be given a part as cabin boy in one of the ship sequences.

The Fiesta welcomes anyone who wants a part, regardless of what he or she may do. Fencers and singers will be specially trained for their parts. Rehearsals are held each week, at Central School, San Mateo, at 7:30. Registrations may be sent in to the Fiesta office and Lou Ashe, director, and auditions are held nightly.

SUGGESTIONS ON SAFETY ASKED

Speed regulation, strengthening of the drivers license system and the control of pedestrian traffic were the subjects considered by a group of 75 experts, meeting recently in Washington, D. C.

Discussion of speed regulation centered chiefly on whether absolute limits should be prescribed or whether alleged violators should be permitted to prove that they were driving safely under prevailing conditions. The latter method, the so-called prima facie limitations, was upheld, but the conference decided that reasonable speed limits on important highways should be indicated by signs, with lower limits for night driving.

The raising of the day limit for open country driving from 45 to 50 miles per hour was recommended, with a suggestion that in some states it might be raised to 55 or even 60 miles.

Readers of our weekly paragraph in this newspaper may have definite ideas on this subject of speed regulation, and this commission would like to have their opinions. Address us at the county court house. Other recommendations of the conference will be presented later.—San Mateo County Safety Commission.

Treasury Dept. Purchases Clothing

Through the procurement division of the Treasury Department a purchase of men's clothing amounting to $8,254,000 was consumated, early this week. This department has commenced the purchase of $2,000,000 worth of women's coats and suits.

These transactions are for the WPA.

FORMER MAYOR DEAD

At his Inverness, Marin County coast resort, Monday of this week, Gustavus Crocker Simmonds, 75, a former mayor of Sacramento, died of a heart ailment.

Funeral services were conducted at Piedmont.

PUBLIC SAFETY EXPERIMENT MAY PROVE SUCCESS

Reflector Discs Will Be Mounted On Posts Three Feet Above Road

An experiment in public safety will help illuminate three miles of Bayshore Highway, perhaps within the next week, the California State Automobile Association announced recently.

The experiment will make use of reflector discs, mounted on posts, about 30 inches above the ground, on the stretch between Mills Field and Broadway, Burlingame. The object of the reflectors is to catch the gleam of headlights, thus outlining the highway far ahead on dark nights. They should be of immeasurable help in spotting pedestrians and other vehicles, the association believes.

If the discs prove as successful as they have in Michigan, where they decreased night accidents 79 per cent, the association plans to plant them over the more hazardous stretches of California highway.

Ask Protection For Injured Workers

Emergency hospitalization, adequate during construction on Treasure Island, were demanded, this week, at a meeting of the Exposition Safety Council on the island.

Representatives of the Building Trades Council said they would request immediate transfer of emergency hospital facilities to the permanent space in the Administration Building allotted for such a hospital during the fair. T. A. Reardon, chairman of the Industrial Accident Commission, said the commission would support the demand.

Discussion at the meeting centered on three recent serious accidents in which ambulances were allegedly late in arriving, particularly in the case of Fred Magnuson, first Treasure Island fatality, who died before an ambulance from San Francisco could reach the island.

FEDERAL FOOD ACT ENFORCED

The first seizure under the new Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act of June 25, 1938, has been made. The United States Department of Agriculture announced that on the recommendation of the Food and Drug Administration, the federal district attorney at Milwaukee, Wis., caused seizure of a consignment of "Lash Lure the New Improved Eyebrow and Lash Dye," manufactured by the Cosmetic Manufacturing Company of Los Angeles, California. The government alleges that numerous instances of severe eye injury to women who have used the product are on record. Including a number of cases of total blindness. Until the passage of the new act, the government has been powerless to prevent continued traffic in this article.

Under the law the interstate shipment of dangerous cosmetics is immediately prohibited. The act, in most of its provisions, does not become effective until June 25, 1939.

GREAT PROGRESS FOR SURGERY

To what heights the surgical profession will soar in the next half century, we can only guess; but judging from the foregoing, science may go so far as to build entirely new bodies in place of tired, worn and almost useless ones.

A few hours after the recent death of 80 year old Mrs. Margaret Carr, two San Francisco surgeaons removed the corneas from her eyes, placed them in refrigeration, and three days later, in their local hospital, transplanted the tissues into the sightless eyes of Rev. U. E. Harding of Portland and Arthur Morton, a Sacramento pianist, 21 years of age.

At a later date, when the bandages were lifted from the pastor's right eye, the patient exclaimed, "I can see!" He could distinguish the surgeon's hand, count the fingers and discern colors.

"Things are blurred-reddish," the young musician whispered, "but I can see." Then he fainted for joy.

GOLDEN VOICED COWBOY TO SING AT STATE FAIR

California Bred Movie Star To Be One Of Many Thrilling Attractions

Fred Scott, the golden voiced cowboy who will thrill thousands of California State Fair and Exposition visitors in Sacramento September 2 through 11, once sang in San Francisco and Los Angeles grand opera.

Now on a sensational tour of the Eastern states following the making of several outstanding musical western movies in Hollywood, Scott is a real Californian. Born in Fresno and raised in Oakland, voice critics predict a great future for him in the singing world.

He has been signed by Secretary-Manager Robert Muckler to appear as one of the stars on the California State Fair and Exposition's world-famous entertainment program.

CALIFORNIA PUP DERBY WILL BE BADEN FEATURE

Entries Limited To California Bred Two Year Olds And Under

Nine survivors in the $1000 added California pup derby will race for fame and fortune tomorrow (Saturday) night at Baden Kennel Club in one of the racing classics of the "Sport of Queens."

Twenty-five speedy greyhounds were nominated for the rich purse, and the nine starters tomorrow night are the survivors of five elimination events.

The race is limited to California bred two-year olds and under, and the greyhound breeders brought scores of young speedsters to the track this year for the blue ribbon title event. Thirty-four greyhounds were nominated originally. By final entry date nine of these had been dropped from the list.

Rural Rebel, the track champion, was the outstanding favorite to win the pup derby this year, but there was an outside chance that some unknown would come up from the ranks to take the champion's measure.

Last year just such an event transpired when Plum Shot, the greenest dog in the Derby with only one official race before the elimination events, won in sparkling style to become the greyhound hero of the year.

GIVE THE WEST A PLACE!

This vast country of ours is united as one under the federal government.

But each great geographical division has its own history, its own destiny, as well as its own peculiar problems. Who would deny that in formulating wise national policy that these differences should be appreciated and understood, and be permitted to play a part in shaping such policy?

Because of these significant considerations we urge that a Westerner be appointed to the United States Supreme Court to fill the vacancy left by the late Justice Cardozo.

Since Justice Sutherland and Van Devanter retired, none of America west of the Mississippi, save Minnesota, has been represented by any member of the highst court!

Few there are who would declare the particular economic and social problems of California and the West are identical with those of the South and its plantation kingdoms, or with the East and its industrial empires. Or who would deny that a competent jurist familiar with the history, development and nature of the West would not be a wise and intelligent addition to the high court?

We have no lack of such ably qualified men here in this section of America. Give the West a place on the Supreme Court!

CURB THE KILLER

It happened in Oakland, Calif. It could happen anywhere.

Hurtling seemingly out of nowhere, an automobile smashed into a group of people in a pedestrian cross-walk one night recently. Turning out his car lights, stepping on the gas, and caroming around corners, the hit-runner managed to escape his pursuers while cries of "Lynch him!" rose from the infuriated crowd gathered round the victims—Joseph Kelly, age 5, instantly killed, and Timothy, his brother, age 3, instantly killed.

Certainly not lynching, but sure and vigorous justice is the sole remedy needed. Menaces to peace and safety on highways and streets, like menaces elsewhere in our society, should be treated with equal vigor if irresponsible driving is to be permanently checkmated.

A DOG'S LIFE

They say truth is stranger than fiction. Now we can believe it.

Here's the American Veterinary Medical Association, meeting in the East for its seventy-fifth annual convention, reporting that city dogs live longer than country dogs! In other words, the urban pooches who amble on hot pavement, circumnavigate the 9x12 expanses of city apartment rooms, and inhale rich, bracing, steam-heated air, live two or three years longer than their country cousins.

The veterinarians are handy with reasons to explain this. The poor country dog, it seems, is afflicted with all sorts of grief—too much exposure to the sun, climatic changes, irritations from contact with vegetation. This may be true, but we'll leave it to the humble pooch himself to decide. And we'll give odds any upstanding animal would prefer to frisk over the country fields and lanes, even if it does give him fallen arches and deep circles under the eyes.

MILKMAN TURNS FIGHTER IN NEW TYPE OF COMEDY

Placid Wagon Driver Wins Laurels In Prize Ring Through Force Of Circumstances

There's a mental lightweight with a heavyweight name—Burleigh Sullivan—who captures the middleweight ring title in the three round comedy "The Milky Way" which opened for a two weeks run at the Alcazar last Monday night.

At no time has the Federal Theater ever presented a comedy with the risible tickling propensities of "The Milky Way." It's a loud laugh from the first gong to the windup with old man gloom taking the count in every round. Walter Gilbert directed.

"The Milky Way" is the story of a placid milk wagon driver who suddenly finds himself confronted by two of the world's chief plug uglies, the middleweight ring champ and his trainer. An impromptu bout takes place on the sidewalk in which the dairyman apparently comes out victor. Later he finds himself in the squared circle contending for the middleweight crown. The many humorous situations that bring this state of affairs about provide everything that goes to make up a first class evening of amusement. Lynn Root and Harry Clork are responsible for "The Milky Way."

The actors, each one of whom is called upon for an important part of the fun—and deliver it—are Justus Wyman, Walter Farnsworth, Bettye Hale, Marion Sterly, Frank Bolger, Edwin Macdonald, Crawford Parks and Dan Stanley. "The Milky Way" will next appear in Oakland at the Twelfth Street Theater, opening August 22, following the closing of the San Francisco engagement, August 20.

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

"The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la" must be fooled by our brisk, springlike all-the-year-round coast climate, for they carry on throughout the entire year, with the exception of a few weeks in midwinter when the rains dampen their ardor. Local gardens are lavish with a veritable avalanche of flowers. A perpetual season of blossoming makes the task of gardening a joy to those so happy as to possess a patch of good earth, some plants and few tools.

The William Johnsens are tireless in their garden and home work of improvement, and, after a number of discouragements, their garden is coming into remarkable success, showing masses of bright color and a smooth green lawn.

Mrs. Daisy Waldorf is one fo the most indefatigable gardeners in Pedro. Out in every kind of weather, planting transplanting, and rearranging, this careful gardener's flowers do her immense credit all the year around.

Mrs. Jennie Bicknell of Rockaway, her son Jimmy, Mrs. Hector Martin and her small daughter, spent a delightful week at the home of Mrs. Bicknell's brother, W. D. Gillis of Lakeport, Lake County. They left in a gay holiday mood, anticipating a pleasurable outing, Jennie in a pretty pink organdy, and Alice in modish sports togs. Anne Henderson held business together in her sister's absence, in her usual capable fashion. Mrs. Martin, who is an A No. 1 driver, motored the party in her spic-and-span car.

Dr. and Mrs. Le Fevre brought their fine, seagoing yacht, the "Ruth", down last weekend, for a cruise along the local coast. This smart boat is named for Mrs. Le Fevre, and the similarity of title sometimes leads to perplexities in the family conversation. Dr. Le Fevre's uncle, who has been helping the owner repaint the craft, was asked what he had been doing the other day. His reply, which caused a hearty family laugh, was "Scraping barnacles off Ruth's stern."

Fred Roth, well known lumberman, flew to Portland, Oregon, last Sunday, on a business trip, returning by plane late Monday night. Mr. Roth travels by air as a matter of time saving. Says he, "I take the plane at 2:45 from San Francisco, arriving at Portland about 6:45 the next morning. After a busy day, I again take the night plane, arriving in San Francisco in plenty of time to put through the day's activities. A very satisfactory way to travel." Mr. and Mrs. Roth are occupying their summer cottage in Pedro, their Sharp Rock residence being rented for several month past. The Roths are prime favorites in the coastside communities.

Mrs. Walter E. Bliss of San Francisco, and her sister, Miss Schuyler of Portland, Oregon, were visitors at Pedro, Tuesday afternoon, driving over to Shelter Cove to enjoy the scenery, get a breath of exhilerating sea air, and partake of icecream and cakes while chatting with friends. Sturdy four-year-old Schuyler, Mrs. Bliss' grandson, found enchantment in the Cove beach, and was reluctant to leave for home.

The new coast bus schedules are an egreeable improvement for dwellers in this locality, as providing a trip to the city without the irk of a long, long day there, as heretofore. Passing north through Pedro at 10:45 a.m., and returning from San Francisco so as to touch the Pedro highway bus stop at 1:29, the increased service at these seasonable hours is gratefully commented upon by local residents.

Harry Rees was out after gophers one day last week, trying to get a bead on an elusive varmint that was making havoc in the Rees garden. "Sipper," the big shepherd dog, was in a lather of excitement, and he knew exactly what was going on, although he is not a hunting dog, either by breed or training.

The tragic spectacle of a cabin in flames on Pedro beach, Sunday night, drew many observers to watch the almost inevitable destruction. Mr. Fritz was the tenant. The fire occurred, it is reported, when Fritz started a fire in a stove, and went next door to visit his neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Sant. Time slipped by. The stove fire was forgotten until a sudden roar attracted their attention. They rushed out, to find the house in a fury of flame, already beyond saving. The houses on each side of the Fritz place were in danger, and strenuous efforts were required by the Sants and Charlie Shuttle, whose cabin is close by, to extinguish the blaze and save their own homes. Friends soon arrived to help, but they had to work several hours before it was safe to leave the scene.

Many remedial herbs used in medicine grow wild on our local hills and should be preserved, if possible, from the destruction that accompanies excavating and building operations. Cascara Segrada, Belladonna, Yerba Buena, and other are to be found in quantity.

MACHINE CRASH NEAR BRISBANE

Fred J. Schneider, 55, Oakland, suffered a lacerated forehead and fractured left ribs, early this week, when his car was struck on Bayshore Highway near Brisbane by a hit-run motorist, according to police report.

Police are checking the license number of an automobile abandoned on Bayshore Highway, which was discovered shortly after the crash.

Final touches are being put in the Bayshore School. This week, trustees purchased window shades, rubber floor mats for corridors, and purchased electrical fixtures. These fixtures will be hung this week and then the school will be put in readiness for the opening of school and for the dedication ceremonies. When the trustees hold their next board meeting, a date will be set for the dedication. All organizations of Bayshore will be invited to participate.

GOLD GLITTERS FOR YOUNGSTER

Three and one-half year old Keith Carlson was found, this week, after an eighteen hour search for him through the rugged mountains in the vicinity of San Bernardino. In his hand he clutched a lump of "fool's gold."

Shortly ofter noon Keith, clad only in a light play suit, sauntered off in search of the precious metal. He soon found a gleaming lump of pyrites, to which he clung throughout the night.

He was cold and hungry and scratched a bit around his sturdy legs, but otherwise uninjured.

His distracted parents, Dr. and Mrs. Eldon L. Carlson of Los Angeles, who prayed through the night that Keith would not tumble over one of the hundreds of rocky cliffs, folded him in their arms. They would not punish him, they said, and would not cut short their week's vacation in their camp near Arrowhead lake.

DISTRICT DANCE AND CARD PARTY PROVES SUCCESS

The card party and dance given by the drill team sponsored by the Twenty-sixth District of the American Legion Auxiliary of San Mateo County, last Saturday night in Burlingame Legion Hall, was most successful. There were 35 tables of whist and the dance floor was filled to capacity. Many prominent officials and candidates for county positions were present and contributed generously to the drill team fund. Mrs. Beatrice Camgros, chairman for the evening, wishes to publicly thank all who assisted in making this affair so successful, and for making it possible for the team to attend the state and national conventions in Los Angeles next month. Also many thanks go to the press for the generous space and announcements given.

Thanks to the many Legionnaires who did the many little things which require the hands of men to do, and special thanks to Louis Chess, Larry Reilly and Arthur Hartley for conducting the program of the evening.

The door prize was awarded to Mrs. Elmer Vincent. High score prize went to Mrs. Constance Dunn. Many other beautiful and valuable prizes were awarded.

SUSPENSION OF COUNTY PATROL HEAD ANNOUNCED

Charges Filed After Many Months Of Investigation Of Conduct In Office

this action against the officer, but it was necessary for the public good."

Ford said Perussina is "relieved from command and further duties with the patrol until a hearing of the charges."

Perussina will be tried before the state personnel board in San Francisco. No date has been set for the trial.

Although he may no longer act in the capacity of an officer, Perussina will continue to draw his salary until his case has been determined by the state board.

Ford said that Perussina's successor, Captain Cassell, comes to San Mateo County with "an enviable record."

Captain Perussina, who resides in Burlingame with his wife and son, steadfastly refused to resign under pressure of the investigation of his conduct.

For several months he had faced a choice of retirement on disability pension, or trial on charges based on the probe by the district inspector, which culminated in his suspension, this week.

The county patrol chief was critically injured in a motorcycle-automobile accident in 1932, in which one man was killed.

Perrussina, attached to the patrol nearly a decade, succeeded to captaincy of the county force after his predecessor, Captain James Logan, was transferred to the San Francisco office following an accident involving Logan's patrol car.

A special meeting of Bayshore Unit of P. T . A. was called, August 8, at Bayshore School house, for the purpose of sponsoring a "Summer Round-up." Dr. Guardino of Brisbane is the school physician. All children who have attained the age of 5 years and 6 month are entitled to a free examination, if they are entering school in September. Dr. Guardino was at the school for these examinations Thursday and Saturday, August 11 and 13.

"The Summer Round-up" of the children is a national campaign to send to the entering grade of school, a class of children as free as possible from remediable defects.

This major health activity of the National Congress has for its ultimate goal, the education of parents to the needs of early periodic examination of their children by the family physician and dentist in order to insure correction of hampering defects which might not otherwise be discovered until the child enters school.

"The Round Up" includes an examination in the spring to all children who will enter school in the fall for the first time; correction of all remediable defects during the summer and a check up in the fall to determine the condition of the children.

The program chairman and president are now working on this year's program and hope to have everything lined up by the time school opens.

Christian Science Lesson Sermon For Next Sunday

"Hear me speedily, O Lord: . . . . cause me to hear thy loving kindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust: caues me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee." These words from Psaims comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, August 14, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Soul." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "I will bless the Lord at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth. My soul shall make her boast in the Lord: the humble shall here thereof, and be glad. O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together" (Ps. 34: 1—3).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Soul and Spirit being one, God and Soul are one, and this one never included in a limited mind or a limited body. Spirit is eternal, divine . . . . Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as immortality brought to light" (p. 335).

BE GLAD YOU CAN DISAGREE

FREEDOM IS A mockery unless every citizen is accorded the right to disagree. The difference between a democracy and a dictatorship lies in the privilege of controversy and opposition, the right of a people to voice and print their own opinion, to choose their own public servants, and to decide their own public policies. Countries in which democracy still prevails are countries where a free press still continues to speak to government in behalf of the electorate. The free press which you maintain in America is your assurance that America shall retain the free government of a free people. Your newspaper is the first line of defense to safeguard and perpetuate the ideal of liberty upon which our republic was founded. Support your newspaper— protect it—for its welfare is your welfare—its freedom is your freedom.

American Legion Goes Over The Top

The dance of August 6th, given by the American Legion, Post No. 473, was a huge success. The net profit was a little over one hundred dollars. The idea of putting on this dance was originated by members of the American Legion.

The Legion received none of this money,it donating all to the Bribane Cubs ball team. The door prize was won by Earl Gainor; the basket of groceries, that was donated by Butch, was won by Mrs. Louie Perrie; the basket of groceries, donated by Miss Margaret Dewhurst, was won by Norman Brown. Brownie also won the facial, donated by The Brisbane beauty parlor. The Legion wishes to thank Mr. Forney for his donation, and to thank all who helped to make the dance a success. The Cubs are tickled pink, for they now have thier new suits, and the catchers equipment, bats, balls and all the rest that was so badly needed. Over $100 has now been spent on the boys that go to make up the first string Cubs. The rest of the Cubs will soon be sporting at least a sweat-shirt with Brisbane Cubs lettering on them, and a ball cap in a short itme. They also will get ball suits.

So folks never forget the American Legion, and all those who were so big-hearted as to give their time and thought to the boys of Brisbane.

C. H. RICHARDS,
Manager Bribane Cubs.

HEAD BRISBANE FIRE DISTRICT RESIGNS POST

Pelt of Oakdale, manufacturer of rural apparatus, for a new truck, to be paid for at the rate of $1500 a year for four years, beginning this fiscal year, and with a final payment of $571.

However, no payment has been made yet, as the result of inquiries by the controller's office into the legal status of the contract.

Sullivan said that both the grand jury and his office had recommended to the Board of Supervisors that the latter refuse to include $1500 in this year's Brisbane district budget for first payment on the new apparatus, until the proposition had first been submitted to the voters for approval.

The board has tentatively agreed to follow this advice, Sullivan said.

About a week ago, a grand jury committee reported to the main body that the district commissioners had agreed to cancel the Van Pelt order and hold an election to determine whether the people wanted to invest in a new fire engine. No mention of this action was made in Chairman Brown's letter of resignation.
